DETAILED ACTION

- 1. Claims 50-211 are pending.
- 2. Claims 1-49 were cancelled prior to examination.
- 3. Claims 50-211 are restricted.

Election/Restrictions

- 4. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 50-54, drawn to clustering and grouping, classified in class 707, subclass 737.

Group II, claim(s) 55-60, drawn to reversing effects of transport, classified in class 714, subclass 15.

Group III, claim(s) 61-71 and 118, drawn to the use of public vs. private keys, classified in class 380, subclass 285.

Group IV, claim(s) 72-82 and 88, drawn to subscription services, classified in class 705, subclass 901.

Group V, claim(s) 83, 84 and 89-92, drawn to filtering invitations, classified in class 713, subclass 173.

Group VI, claim(s) 85-87, drawn to web-based services, classified in class 717, subclass 103.

Group VII, claim(s) 93-102 and 132-141, drawn to graphic user interface, classified in class 715, subclass 700.

Group VIII, claim(s) 103, 104 and 108, drawn to database synchronization, classified in class 707, subclass 610.

Group IX, claim(s) 105-107, drawn to sender verification using tokens, classified in class 726, subclass 20.

Group X, claim(s) 109-117, drawn to cryptography, classified in class 380, subclass 250.

Group XI, claim(s) 119-131, drawn to digests, classified in class 713, subclass 181.

Group XII, claim(s) 142-211, drawn to class of service and electronic postmarking, classified in class 715, subclass 752.

5. Inventions I - XII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as clustering and grouping. Subcombination II has separate utility such as reversing effects of transport. Subcombination III has separate utility such as the use of public vs. private keys. Subcombination IV has separate utility such as subscription services. Subcombination V has separate utility such as filtering invitations. Subcombination VI has separate utility such as web-based services. Subcombination VII has separate utility such as graphic user interface. Subcombination VIII has separate utility such as database synchronization. Subcombination IX has separate utility such as sender verification using tokens. Subcombination X has separate utility such as cryptography. Subcombination XI has separate utility such as digests. Subcombination XII has separate utility such as class of service and electronic postmarking y. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Art Unit: 2456

The Examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

6. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;

- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Conclusion
